Cursed by God himself these poor souls must forever wonder the universe in bodies that are forever aging. However, they have turned their curse into their strength, as they fight against every power in this universe to protect those that cannot protect themselves. Fighting with everything they have, single handedly taking on vast armies, even if it means they will be beaten to a bloody wreck they will still stand and fight. They shake planets to their very cores, darken the stars, and moving entire star systems, all for the protection of the universe, they are The Brothers Will, and they never back down. Now come join the fight as you learn how it all began.
