Piper Jordan, an American reared in Brazil, had her pilot's license before she could drive and her aviation maintenance certificate before her business degree.

Pulled between two countries, two career paths, and separated parents, she strives to determine what is significant and what to do with her life.

Kyle Chamberlain, pilot with Outreach for Christ, wears a wedding ring that says he's not ready to date again after Rosanna's death. Wielding a wrench with the cutest pilot/mechanic he's ever seen turns his head. But would a dynamic woman with her talents and eventual inheritance accept his missionary life in the Amazon?
