Resolutions often come true in Crystal Cove. Colby Lodge is a clumsy but sweet and sexy bartender. He'd hoped for a great holiday and a perfect New Year. After his girlfriend dumps him—for his best friend—his truck breaks down, he gets evicted, and his cat runs away, he's just hoping to survive. Then Mia Potter—the girl who got away—saunters into The End and he thinks they might get their Resolutions after all. Mia walked away once knowing she was making a huge mistake. Fast forward five years and she's back to fix that mistake—even if Colby can't believe she's here to stay. A lifetime ago Colby Lodge was her New Year's Resolution every year, even if he didn't know. They never got to start a new year the way either of them hoped. Can they finally get their New Year right and start it together?
