Why Wolf Has Big Feet is the first story in a series, intended for an audience ages 8 to 10 years; however, it is a story that can be enjoyed by everyone, parents reading to their infants, young siblings listening to their older brother or sister read aloud, and grandparents building a small library for their favorite visitors... After nine days of rain, Young Wolf was eager to wander through the meadow and enjoy a sunny day. While greeting familiar animals of the forest and meadows, something unexpected occurred, Young Wolf heard a sound...a squeal, a cry for help! Little did Young Wolf know that today he was going to have to try to rescue a fellow creature, one he had never met before, and in doing so, would change him forever. What happens to Young Wolf? Find out.
