Judging by the cover, it seems like she's leading a over the top desirable life. Flight Attendant, gorgeous and beautiful, constantly traveling to wonderful cities and staying at the best Hotels. No need to point out, she dresses cool and stylish. Let's name it: shopping is fun. But tell me is she as lucky to have Mr. Right next to her? Bet you'd ask her, she'd answer: I'm not even looking for him. Too much bullshit crossed her way. But deep inside Greta is endly romantic and hunting him. On a trip to New York he seems to cross her way. To be honest, it's more sitting in her way, in First Class.

Not only this flight is very turbulent, whatever follows just as well. After all there is one thing Greta always trusts in, no matter what happens, no matter how shitty Life turns out: Whatever happens it's for the best.
